Margaret K. McElderry Books

Maggie is a pup who loves treats of all kinds. But her favorite treat isn't a dog biscuit or a bone, or even Dad's slippers.

It's a pillow!

Maggie bounces the pillow.

She pounces.

She prances.

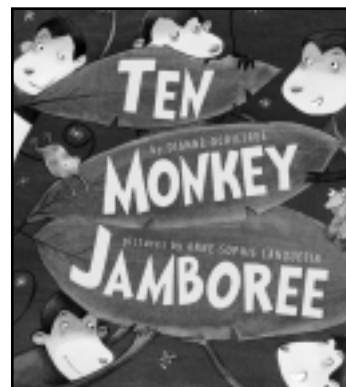

She does one of her you-can't-catch-me dances.

It's a pillow fight! Join a little girl and her playful pup Maggie on a tail-wagging, floor-dragging, zig-zagging ride!

Dianne Ochiltree has been writing poems and stories since she was a kid growing up in a small Ohio town. Her childhood was filled with dozens of cousins, a parade of pampered pets, and an endless supply of books under her bed. Today—after twenty-five years as a professional writer—she shares her love of reading and creative writing with students of all ages. Dianne currently lives in Northwestern New Jersey with her family. You can visit her at www.ochiltreebooks.com.
